Easter Sunday Birding Tour

We are thankful for the many friends who supported the Historic Elmwood Foundation and Elmwood Cemetery in 2015.

You may purchase a bed of begonias through the website. "In Memory of" perpetual flowers and an order form can be found online or in our McMillan Office.

Foundation Contributors

please join us and we talk about the history of the McMillan Arboretum as we plant trees in honor of the 170th anniversary, Mother’s Day, date of death, anniversary, or other special occasion. Two sizes are available to commemorate that birthday, through the website.

Birding
event from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, usually the Sunday following April 15, May 13 & 22.

In May 1846, six gentlemen, all leading citizens of Hamtramck, purchased the necessary property, and thus the Elmwood Cemetery was born.

In January 1888, the grounds of this Institution comprise six acres and are enclosed by a beautiful, iron fence.

In the McMillan Arboretum, you can relax and enjoy the beauty of nature, and perhaps even learn something new. Our Arboretum is open to the public daily from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. (closed 24 hours during the months of January and February).

Begonias

Begonias are available for purchase at the McMillan office, or floral arrangement each year or buy them now and have them in place every year for one mile from the City of Detroit, in the township of Hamtramck. They are a non-profit cemetery noting in the historic designation of the City of Detroit.

Elmwood Cemetery Celebrates 170 Years in 2016

Elmwood Cemetery has been an integral part of Detroit and Hamtramck’s history since 1846. It is an important historical landmark, providing a place for the community to honor and remember their loved ones. The cemetery is open to the public daily from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. (closed 24 hours during the months of January and February).

Elmwood Cemetery in Detroit has a storied past.

The Norton Manchester family have donated Elmwood Cemetery to the Hampden Neighborhood Trust (HNT) in order to continue restoration and protection of the cemetery grounds and buildings, and ensure a lasting legacy for generations to come.

Elmwood Cemetery in Detroit, MI (since 1846)

Elmwood Cemetery is partnering with Greening of Detroit as a vehicle for its reforestation effort. A team with the National Park Service conducted a comprehensive native woodland survey, and trees were surveyed and tagged, creating a detailed report of the species, location, and age. Funds were raised to purchase native plants, including willows, oak, black cherry, and basswood, to be planted along the creek.

This was never more apparent than last summer. Mrs. Wilson asked Mr. Lowry, “What can we do to help?” Mr. Lowry, in turn, rallied other trustees to support the Historic Elmwood Foundation. These donations were supplemented by grants from The Ralph C. Wilson, Jr. Foundation, the Mary Thompson Foundation, and other trustees. These donations and grants have permitted us to move forward with a number of initiatives.

“Elmwood is a place of historic significance that has been in the hands of loving stewards for generations,” said Sandy McMillan, co-founder of the Historic Elmwood Foundation. “It is truly a treasure in the Detroit community and it is important to continue the efforts of the past to protect and restore it.”

Elmwood Cemetery has a unique display of memorial art that has been chosen to honor those at rest and create a lasting legacy, from towering obelisks to flat markers. The cemetery has a long tradition of “gardening,” with thousands of flowers placed in the gardens throughout the year. You can find a variety of markers, including the eagle, stars to indicate military service? These include the eagle, stars to indicate military service, anchor, sword, laurel wreath, gun, and helmet. These are located at the valley at the lower edge of Hazel Dell. Across the creek, with the same view, you can see the Henderson Road Bridge that was built in 1967.

Elements for outdoor education

Elmwood Cemetery has been recognized for its educational efforts through The Ralph C. Wilson, Jr. Foundation’s $1 million grant. The Community Foundation of Greater Southeast Michigan has provided audio tours in each of these areas of interest. Visit Elmwood Cemetery, said Mariam Noland, president of the Community Foundation, “for Southeast Michigan.”
